

To Whom It May Concern, about REAL ID:

18 September 2008

My name is Eric Bewley of Bewley Software Productions, and I need your help on a very important issue under your purview.

It is my understanding that the initiative to implement REAL ID as being the primary application to solve each State's challenge for positive identification will go into effect on or about September 2009, and that this has been somewhat of a burden. This burden is due primarily to the economic impact such a program will have at both state and federal levels. I also understand that even with the primary finalization of REAL ID in late 2009, many present and future needs of the people will remain unaddressed by this application. In fact, many of the challenges we face now, cannot be sufficiently addressed in whole or in part by implementation of the REAL ID program. To address these needs, Bewley Software Productions has designed, and is in the process of developing, a solution which can address the support of both current and future initiatives of your office without sacrificing the rights, liberties and freedom of citizens.

With courtesy to you and your team of colleagues, who within your sphere of influence has the task to determine the best course of action and make decisions concerning REAL ID and other systems by which to secure personal identity security? Here within their reach, is a PowerPoint© presentation demonstrating a comprehensive system which not only addresses the issues at hand, but will provide and conclude solutions to future challenges and initiatives. The presentation can be found on the home page of the Multi-Pass ID website at <http://www.MultiPassID.com>.

In conclusion, the economic status of our entire nation is at stake, and the program outlined in the presentation will be very compelling and conclusive to a great many issues and cost objectives of today and beyond. I believe you and future administrations will continue to find the assistance you seek in addressing your initiatives with the tools provided by the proposed system from Bewley Software Productions.

Sincerely,

Eric Bewley, CEO
Bewley Software Productions
